

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

I've been tired of the common or garden variety of beauty contest for a long time, but here's something new:

The Photographers' Association of America, represented in this area by "Holly" at Studio of the Cliffs, has launched a nation-wide search to find the most photogenic and charming woman 75 years of age.

"We feel," said President James Pickands II, "that a woman of mature years will more represent the ideals of our craft than the usual youthful beauty queen."

Well, now there's a fresh approach. Good for you, Brother Pickands.

All women who were born in 1880, the year the Photographers' Association of America was founded, are eligible to join the "Sweet 75 Contest." All she has to do is have a photo taken at the studio of a member of the Association.

She must be in good health, able to travel, and prepared to establish proof of her age.

The contest closes June 15. The grand prize winner will be guest of honor at the Photographers' Association Diamond Jubilee birthday party and convention in Chicago, Aug. 15-19. Also, she will make guest appearances on network TV and radio shows. A specific list of prizes will be announced later.

"Holly" has entry blanks. The photographer making the winning portrait also will receive prizes and recognition at the P. A. of A. convention.

Mrs. W. S. McConnell, of 1641 Cable St., drove into an Ocean Beach service station to get gas Monday morning, April 4, and the attendant discovered that at least a half-pound of sugar had been dumped into her gas tank.

"It ruined the tank," she said. "I had to get a new one, which cost $32.14, including labor."

She thinks the sugar probably was put in the tank Sunday, April 3, between 5 and 9:30 p.m., when the car was parked in a driveway on Adair St.

Mrs. McConnell told police she had no enemies. Whoever put the sugar in her tank did it out of sheer devilry, she said. (She's had a lock placed on the cap of the new tank.)

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, blames a sharp increase in juvenile delinquency on "do gooders" and "sob sisters" who coddle criminals. He says "maudlin sentimentality" toward criminals is rampant in the U.S.

A nationwide survey shows that teen-age crime is "due more to coddling youth when he commits an offense than anything else," according to Hoover.

Yeah, I've contended that for a long time. The hoodlum type usually doesn't respond to kindness; the only thing that keeps him in line is a fear of consequences.

A 16- or 17-year-old hoodlum knows he can commit almost any crime without danger of severe punishment.

What's the remedy?

Get tough with 'em!

RUSSELL LIGHT POPS UP AGAIN IN FISH DERBY

First list of prize winners in the Junior Chamber of Commerce's $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby revealed that it required an exceptional fish to earn one of the weekly awards, for the smallest to pay dividends was a 28 pound 8 ounce.

Russell Light, 3896 Rosecrans St., played a prominent role in the taking of the new derby leading yellow, but was not on the business end of the rod.

Light handled the boat while Howard T. Cox, La Mesa, played a 34 pound 14 ounce to perfection, thus acquiring full right to the top rung of the derby ladder.

Light, who won the first derby fishoff last year with a 33-14, qualified earlier last week by bagging a 22 pound 1 ounce yellow from one of the regular sportfishing boats.

The lunger caught by Cox did not affect the weekly prize winners, because the private boat from which the catch was made was eligible to register yellows for qualifying purposes only.

The five winners for the first week of competition were: 30-12, Jack Berg, La Mesa; 30-7, William Thorpe, Redondo; 29-8, C. C. May, Huron, Calif.; 28-9, Emory Z. Hall, San Diego, and Fred E. Bennett, Inglewood, 28-5.

Registrations from Point Loma-Ocean Beach area included the following: 21-12, P. K. Matlock, 1561 Ocean Front; 20-5, George C. Glenn Jr., 1502 Scott; 20-0, Carl Lange, 4712 Niagara, and 19-0, George Zarkos, 1340 Plum.

Daily catches ranged from 136 to 400 yellows last week, and derby minimum weight jumped from 15 to 20 pounds within a space of three days.

Dr. Dickson Joins O. B. Medical Group

Louis L. Dickson, M. D., has joined the Ocean Beach Medical Group at 4918 Santa Monica Ave., it was announced this week by W. B. Oster, M. D.

Dickson attended Pacific Union College and is a graduate of the Medical Evangelist School at Loma Linda. He served his internship at Queen's Angels Hospital in Los Angeles.

Plans are under way for the Medical Group's new building on the parking lot at Cable St. and Santa Monica Ave. Richard Wheeler is the architect for the building, expected to be ready for occupancy by October.

In the Medical Group are Oster, Roland Harris, M. D., James MacDonald, M. D., and Roy Barrett, M.D., who is serving in the Navy.

TENTH AVENUE MARINE TERMINAL: Proposition D on next week's general election ballot concerns a $9,460,000 bond issue to be used in constructing the Tenth Avenue Terminal. This artist's conception shows the proposed design. According to engineering experts, the Tenth Avenue project will provide simultaneous berthing for nine ships; two 200,000 square foot cargo sheds, including rail and truck heads; and open storage areas.

S. D. HARBOR'S FUTURE AT STAKE TUESDAY

"The future of commercial shipping in San Diego rests on the voters' decision at the polls on April 19," Joseph E. Dryer, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Harbor Development, declared yesterday.

"Proposition D on next Tuesday's ballot, asking for a bond issue of $9,460,000 for construction of a modern shipping terminal at the foot of Tenth Ave., will be an important turning point in the Port's future," Dryer said.

John Bate, Port Director, put it this way: "We simply have more cargo than we can handle with our outmoded facilities."

He was referring to the fact that the city has not built a major port improvement since the early '20s.

Dryer said the heart of the matter lies in the fact the port has demonstrated in recent years that it can get cargoes. "Right now cargoes are stacked and piled along the roadways for all to see," he said.

Dryer added that one danger is the loss of potential cargoes; another is that shippers are becoming reluctant to consign their goods and commodities through the port for fear of running into a bottleneck at our present docks.

"We have had to shut off the cargo solicitation program that produced the record tonnages of recent years," he concluded.

Private shippers and local businessmen have pointed out the inability to handle cargoes that pour approximately $19 a ton into local channels means a serious loss of new dollars.

The Harbor Department's answer is the construction of the Tenth Avenue Terminal.

After consulting the best brains in the field of port engineering and drawing on the experience of other successful ports, they feel that the terminal plan is sound and vital to the future growth of the port.

PROPOSITION B EXPLAINED BY POLICE AND FIREMEN

Retirement rights of veteran police officers and firemen will be equalized and they will be encouraged to remain in City employment if Proposition B on the April 19 ballot is approved by the voters.

That statement was made this week by Sgt. O. J. Roed, president, San Diego Police & Firemen's Association, Inc.

"Members of both departments who will be affected by the proposition have voted by a substantial majority in favor of the proposal," he stated.

"Unanimous vote of the City Council placed the proposition on the ballot and many community organizations have endorsed Proposition B."

"Last year when the City employees retirement system was modified by a vote of the people it became more evident than ever before that certain liberalization were necessary for veterans police and firemen. At that time approximately 420 firemen and policemen, valuable veterans with more than eight years experience, were left under a system that offered no incentive to remain in the service."

"An immediate study was started by the San Diego Police and Firemen's Association, Inc., aided by City legislative and administrative officers. The final proposal was submitted to an actuarial firm which reported there would be no increased burden on the taxpayer and that the proposal was sound."

Fairest Of Fair Preliminary To Be Held Here

Ocean Beach and Point Loma entries will participate in final competition Saturday, June 4 at Del Mar. Candidates in both the preliminaries and finals will be judged on a point system for beauty, personality, charm and poise. Dress will be formal.

O. B. Kiwanis Club

Hugh B. Greer discussed proposals to form a world government, to be brought before the United Nations this year, in a talk to Ocean Beach Kiwanians Tuesday night.

He urged citizens to keep informed on the situation and communicate their wishes to congressmen. He spoke in opposition to proposals to form a world government, which he said would destroy American independence and lead to domination by alien forces.

Russell Wilson was program chairman.

SALE SATURDAY

A white elephant sale will be held by members of Group 6 of

City Council Candidates Speak In O.B.

The six candidates for City Council spoke Monday night at the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Community Center. Their condensed remarks follow:

Councilman Charles B. Win-cote, Second District nominee: I think a public official should be scrupulously honest, with integrity, business ability, the ability to ferret out facts and the courage to vote his convictions. It's a privilege to be on the City Council—I think the Council has given the city good honest government. One of the main troubles is to get San Diegans to think alike, to get the facts, forget selfish interests, and start pulling together.

D. D. Williams Jr., of 3107 Zola St., Second District nominee: It is agreed that we've had honesty and integrity in City government. But I think the administration has failed to get with the people—I don't believe the average voter is informed on issues. The recent defeat of the sewer bonds indicates that not sufficient thought and study was given to the plan. There's a big canyon off Point Loma that wasn't mentioned—we weren't well enough informed. The harbor development bonds are a "must" for economic stability.

W. West Kennerly, Fifth District nominee: "I've lived in San Diego 34 years and raised five boys. The City of San Diego has 3500 employees, and I feel there should be an ordained minister, a chaplain, at Civic Center to help them and increase efficiency."

Francis E. (Frank) Curran, Fifth District nominee: I favor development of Ocean Beach, preservation of the fishing industry, correction of bay pollution and completion of the Mission Bay development.

Justin C. Everson, Sixth District nominee: I am an experienced business man and can contribute to the city's industrial progress. The 10th St. pier has my endorsement. I favor playgrounds, community centers, swimming pools, and facilities for anglers.

Al Mix, Sixth District nominee: We should bring in diversified industry that wouldn't use large quantities of water, such as electronics, cotton processing, and garment and furniture industries.

"This is one of the finest concerts we've had the pleasure to present," said Director Raymond E. Smith. "It's programmed to suit all tastes."

Students who will be seen and heard include Raoul W. Appel, guest conductor; Allen Crouch, solo trumpet; Joe Poukulla, band concert master; Tony Posk and Jeremy Lustig, orchestra concert masters.

The film is being presented in connection with the "new hope" theme of the 1955 Cancer Crusade, under direction of the educational committee headed by Dr. W. W. Duemling.

Candidates for Mayor Speak In Ocean Beach

"We need a salesman as Mayor," Councilman Charles C. Dail told Ocean Beach residents at a meeting in the Community Center Monday night. Harry L. Foster, his opponent, said the city "can use a business man as Mayor."

Harry La Dou, president of O. B. Chamber of Commerce, presided at the gathering, while Jim Noel introduced the candidates for Mayor and City Council.

Noel displayed a model of a proposed neon sign directing visitors to Ocean Beach.

Mrs. Bettie Knauer presented a gold cup to John A. Pierce, secretary of the Chamber, in appreciation for his four-year service as chairman of the Daz-O-Fun parade.

Dail recognized his former Council colleague, Frank F. Swan, in the audience, and also picked out Daryl Johnson, Harold La Fleur and Mrs. Knauer.

"The future of San Diego," Dail declared, "is dependent upon industrial expansion that doesn't depend on war."

"There is no question but that labor, merchants, and service personnel are all worried about our insecure economic position in any other than a cold or hot war era."

Dail pointed out that the San Diego Chamber of Commerce uses public funds in pursuit of its industrial development program; that the Chamber has been reorganized, and "its enthusiasm for attracting industry coincides with my views."

The Chamber's aggressive attitude is evidenced in the appointment of Harley Knox, former mayor, as chairman of the Industrial Development Committee, Dail said. "We see eye to eye in this program," he added, "particularly in view of the fact that I have advocated the

City Schools Offer Programs To Clubs

Services of the City Schools' speakers' bureau are available to San Diego organizations desiring to schedule programs in connection with the 38th annual observance of Public Schools Week, April 25 to 30, Wayne C. Fry, assistant director of community relations, announced.

Four programs are recommended especially in connection with Public Schools Week, Fry said, but the speakers' bureau will be glad to provide programs on any phase of school activity, he added. The four featured programs are these:

"Skippy and the Three R's," a colored motion picture explaining how primary-grade children are prepared for reading and writing. A speaker provides a brief introduction.

"Teaching Americanism in the City Schools," a poster talk illustrated with photos and drawings.

"America Needs Citizens Who Read and Think," a poster talk describing primarily the teaching of reading.

"100 Years of Public Schools in San Diego," a historical talk based on the City Schools' centennial celebration.

Programs may be scheduled by contacting Fry's office in the Education Center, CY-8-4681, Ext. 367.

Lakeside Rodeo Set April 16-17

A parade of color guards from San Diego County riding clubs and richly garbed individual riders will open the first championship rodeo of the season at Lakeside's Rodeo Arena Saturday and Sunday, April 16 and 17. C. M. Mathis, manager, announced this week.

Wilma Tate, champion girl calf roper who has appeared in rodeos from California to Madison Square Garden, will compete against cowboy entrants in the calf roping and team roping events.

formation of an industrial commission under the policy direction of the City Council to coordinate the activities of the many private individuals and organizations interested in the same goal of industrial expansion.

"We need a salesman as Mayor—I have been a salesman all my working life, and have spent the past 12 years (on the Council) getting the product knowledge and qualifying myself for the city's top sales job."

Foster told the audience that he was in the engineering construction business for 20 years, retiring a year ago.

"I played an important part in construction of streets, bridges and sewers in San Diego," he said, "and I know what it takes to put projects into effect."

Foster said the candidates are in accord on the need for developing the harbor and Mission Bay. The decision up to the voters is who can best carry out these projects," he said.

"I think the city needs someone who can start something and finish it."

In 1951, Foster recalled, he was president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and recommended that the City Council set aside land on Kearny Mesa for the present industrial site.

Declaring that the city "can use a business man as Mayor," he said a successful business man "would have a better opportunity to sell San Diego to industry than one without this experience."

Kiwanis Pancake Festival Set At King's April 25

Ocean Beach Kiwanis Club will hold its first annual Pancake Festival Monday, April 25, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at King's Restaurant on Newport Ave., according to Russell Wilson, chairman of the club's Ways and Means Committee.

Tickets now are being sold for Kiwanis members. For 75 cents the menu includes "all the pancakes you can eat," plus sausage, tomato juice, and coffee or milk. With each ticket the purchaser also is entitled to a free box of Sperry pancake flour—stubs are redeemable at the festival.

The Sperry Flour Co. is donating the pancake batter, and skilled kitchen help. Kiwanis members will be on duty all day to serve customers.

Proceeds will be used for maintenance of the Kiwanis Youth Building at Santa Monica Ave. and Ebers St.

Tickets also will be on sale at King's the day of the Pancake Festival, April 25. King's is donating its facilities for the day.

Dana Contributes To Olympic Fund

A total of $28.34 was collected at Dana Junior High School for the 1956 Olympic Games to be held in Australia. Mr. Smith's first band class proved themselves outstanding by donating $11.00 of the total collected for the fund. The proceeds will go toward the financing of attendance of United States Olympic teams.

The drive was approved by the school commissioners on the suggestion of Jon Sutherland. It was successfully carried through by Phil Clark, Commissioner of Boys' Activities. A penny from each student was requested.

first three months of this year now stands at 27, three less than for the same period of 1954, Thompson said.

SWISS YODELERS ARE SOUGHT FOR PRODUCTION

A search for genuine Swiss yodelers is still underway at San Diego's Junior Theatre headquarters. Junior Theatre's next production, "Heidi," opening Saturday, is a tale of the Swiss Alps, and authentic Swiss yodeling is needed. Mrs. John R. Reilly, Jr., director, assures any bashful yodelers that their presence on the stage is not required—merely the sound of yodeling off stage.

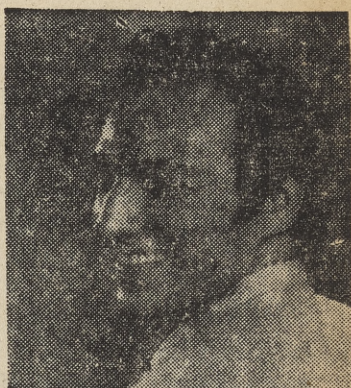

Local residents having such skills, or knowing someone who has, are urged to contact Junior Theatre headquarters, BE-4-1447.

TRIP PLANNED

During Easter Vacation several members of the Sierra Club set forth to explore the mountains and the desert. One party led by Mrs. Ivy Foster of 2606 Fairfield Street, Clairemont, took off for Monument Valley, Arizona to explore the spectacular, brilliantly colored landscape of that region and to visit the Navajo National Monument and hike to the nearby

Betatakin ruins, a well preserved "apartment house" 700 years old and once containing almost 150 rooms. Those of us whose work compels us to limit our outings to weekends are looking forward to a trip on April 23-24 to the Joshua Tree National Monument in the desert east of Palm Springs. This trip is being led by F. Wright McConnell of 2954 Kellogg St. on Point Loma, and Wallace

Smith of Vista and promises to be an easy one for less ambitious hikers.

A large tropical fish exhibit will be featured in the new clubhouse section of the grandstand at the Southern California Exposition & County Fair at Del Mar, June 24 through July 4.

IT WAS A BON VOYAGE—

The Junior Theatre's second annual musical, "Caribbean Holiday" had a successful 7-night run. The youngsters had more fun doing a fine job with the original songs, dances and stage story. Phil Clark, eighth grade student at Dana junior high school, played one of the leading roles. His song, "I Want To Go to Heaven", was presented beautifully.

The audience, seated at tables a la night-club style, ate popcorn and drank cokes during the performance. Point Lomans seen at the last show Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Drew Smith and their daughter, Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. Verne Sutherland and their son, Jon; and

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Jones and their two daughters, Marilyn and Judy.

FOR SEVEN AFTERNOONS

—Cruising down the river is exactly what Mrs. J. C. Turner is doing right this minute. She left Tuesday for Cincinnati, Ohio where she boarded the Delta Queen, a Mississippi riverboat, complete with old-fashion water wheel.

The 7-day cruise down the Mississippi includes stop-overs and sightseeing trips at Evansville, Paducah, Memphis and Natchez. Docking at the French Quarter in New Orleans, the Delta Queen ties up for three days and doubles as a hotel for the cruise passengers. The return trip requires 11 days.

When warned against those "riverboat gamblers", Mrs. Turner returned the tease with: "I'm prepared. I'm taking my Scrabble game with me."

WITH CHERRY ON TOP—

Here's a dessert to serve for a dress-up occasion. It's called Coffee Princess and is a childhood favorite of Mrs. Amos B. Root, 740 Rosecrans. She served it recently to a group of her PEO friends.

Circle a mound of coffee ice cream with marshmallow topping. Sprinkle generously with grated toasted almonds and top with a red cherry. Mrs. Root served this dish with filled wafers and coffee.

Someone has written that putting a cherry on top of desserts "dates" the cook. It was not revealed in just what year the cherry-on-top became popular. However, it would seem there are still hostesses, professional and otherwise, who are "dating" themselves. Long live the cherry on top!

ALHAMBRA VISITOR—Miss Leah Crosse of Alhambra was the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Milan Early, 3437 Brownrig, recently. Miss Crosse, retired principal of a Pasadena school, brought pictures of her European trip to show her friends. She plans to leave in August for an extended trip around the world.

SAW AND LIKED—Bill Richards, home from Stanford for spring holidays, having a glorious time dancing at Kona Kai. Karen Felix and Larry Morris having a soda at Zanz after the job's daughter dance.

Mrs. Werner Petersen's striking brunette beauty even more striking in a white sheath frock with jeweled neckline, dancing at Kona Kai.

New seating and dancing arrangement at Bali Hai on Shelter Island. It's worth a trip just to read the exotic names of dishes on the menu.

The hors-d'oeuvres served on the 3-foot tapered dish at Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Felix's pre-party recently. She sliced a fresh pineapple lengthwise leaving foliage at top. She placed these, cut sides down and rounded ends together, on the slender tray. The pineapple then was literally stuck with cocktail toothpicks used as skewers for olives, cherries, pickled onions, meats and cheeses.

Gladys Bowen and Werner Petersen's fancy footwork on the dance floor at Kona Kai while Mason Bowen and Mrs. Peterson applauded from the sidelines.

Members of the Truloki Camp Fire Girls' group elected new officers at their last meeting. Those to take office include:

Janice Rosenbaum, president; Kathy Townsend, secretary; Marion Thorum, treasurer and Kathy De Rosso, program chairman.

A new member, Joan Sabatina, was welcomed into the group. The members are planning their first overnight encampment at Lorige. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Van Norman will be their camp counselors on this trip.

All Camp Fire Girls of Point Loma, as well as other areas, are planning a Dad-Daughter Dinner. A Pot-Luck Dinner scheduled for April 22 at 6:15 p.m. in the Ocean Beach Community Center.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

"What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." This old folk saying is often quoted these days in Capitol Hill.

Legislation is pending to tax cooperatives on same basis as corporations. In nationwide membership poll of National Federation of Independent Business, 95% endorsed H. R. 13, introduced by Rep. Noah Mason, (R., Ill.) to tax cooperatives the same as corporations.

Membership C. W. Harder is now voting on H. R. 1780 introduced by Rep. Clifford Davis, (D., Tenn.) which would require cooperatives to pay taxes on net income before payment of patronage refunds in same way corporations pay tax on net income before dividends.

Thus it might be said Treasury Secretary George Humphrey's appeals for Congress not to cut personal income taxes because government needs money have drawn sympathetic Congressional interest.

For some time it has been recognized a vast volume of business done by cooperatives has been escaping taxes.

Some experts say taxation of cooperatives on same basis as competing companies would yield extra billion dollars.

History of cooperatives is interesting. Many years before farm price supports, farm subsidies, other farm programs were dreamed about, special laws permitting establishment of cooperatives on a tax free basis were enacted to help farmers.

However, law was written on such broad scope door was opened for practically any type of business to be operated as a cooperative and thus escape taxes. With advent of high taxes, door became popular.

An example is wholesale field. While chain operations are blamed for demise of high percentage of wholesalers, wholesale cooperatives have probably been as responsible, or more so.

If a retailer would prefer to buy through a cooperative rather than his old established wholesaler who extended credit and performed other services, that is his privilege. But during past few years there is reasonable doubt cooperative membership would have been so attractive to many retailers if cooperatives had been required to pay same taxes as private wholesaler.

Even despite tax advantages there are wholesale cooperatives which have not paid members any patronage refunds in cash, issuing stock certificates in lieu of cash not readily negotiable and thus of doubtful value.

At same time, many cooperatives have been pushing to their members their own house brands competing with income tax paying private manufacturers.

Thus once again Congress is faced with an economic injustice spawned by income tax. While outwitting income tax would be quick remedy, it is not to be expected such a drastic cure will ever be entertained.

Therefore, it is felt only just that Congress prescribe all enterprises engaged in production and distribution of merchandise be equally subject to taxation. If such action is not taken, many observers fear in years to come practically all business will be captured by cooperative system which in many nations has supplanted free economy system.

HIGHWAY ZOO

The OCTOPUS

This is the busy boy who is always reaching for something while he drives—the car roof, a cigarette, the lighter, the road map, the coat on the back seat, the popcorn bag and, at times, even the steering wheel. This big fish is all arms, and needs more.
